LADIES AND GENTLEMEN—I take this method to thank my numerous friends and patrons for their kind sympathy in my misfortune by the high water, and to tell them everything is in good order again. I have plenty of fresh flowers every day, and shall have a very fine lot of bedding plants of all descriptions for sale at very low prices at my greenhouse in the rear of the Episcopal church, State street, Montpelier. T. Percival.

WE wish to call the attention of our readers to the advertisement of B. A. Atkinson & Co., 827 Washington street, Boston, Mass., which appears on the sixth page of this paper. Their specialty this week is carpets, and they are offering the greatest inducements to intending purchasers ever offered in this line. They are not only selling cheaper than their competitors, but they are delivering their goods to any railroad depot in any town or city in the New England States. They also are the largest distributors of parlor, chamber and dining-room furniture, bedding, stoves and ranges in the Eastern States. It will pay you to write them or give them a call.

It is handled by merchants in over fifty towns in Vermont, and they all guarantee it to give perfect satisfaction. Compare it with other dryers, and then you will know which is the best; and if you want a good thing, write for terms to agents. W. E. Laird, Montpelier, Vt.

ONLY a little over one week remains before Dr. Royce will close his office at the Montpelier House and go to another section of the state. That in the treatment of chronic disorders the doctor is eminently successful is attested by the numerous stubborn cases that have yielded to his treatment during his stay here. The doctor's varied and extensive practice in various parts of the country, together with his careful professional education, qualify him for the work he has adopted—that of a specialist in chronic diseases of whatever nature. He does not of course claim to cure all diseases; if yours is a helpless case he will frankly tell you so, and he makes no charge for consultation. If any of our readers are suffering from chronic complaints, our advice to them is to see the doctor at once and put themselves under his treatment. His office will be closed April 29th.

MR. W. C. NYE, a prominent business man of Barre, Vt., came to town this week for an operation upon his eyes. Dr. George W. Davis made the operation yesterday and pronounced it a success to-day. He also straightened two cases of cross-eyes last week for persons living in this city, both cases being entirely relieved. The doctor is a very successful surgeon of fifteen years' practice in this city, and the last year has traveled throughout Europe, studying and practicing in London and Vienna. He uses no chloroform or ether for operation upon the eye—cocaine dropped into the eye being sufficient to prevent all pain, and greatly aids the surgeon to make his cut more exact.—Holyoke (Mass.) Daily Transcript, April 16, 1886.

DRS. SEVERANCE & ROYCE have decided to remain at the Montpelier House, Montpelier, Vt., until Thursday night, April 29th. The secret of their success: They succeed because they have every advantage that study, science, practice and experience can give; they succeed because their system is founded upon a practical and scientific basis; they succeed because their medicines are specific, fresh and unadulterated and are prepared by themselves to meet the requirements of each particular case; they succeed because they are skilled in symptomatology and pathology, and know the indications for specific medicines in all the varied conditions; they succeed because they have long since substituted safe natural, specific medicines for the mineral drugs so commonly used, which are so poisonous to the blood and nervous system; they succeed because during the many years they have been engaged in their specialty their patients have never complained of fraud, ill-usage, exorbitant fees or misrepresentation; they succeed because they are scientific specialists, they cure chronic diseases, they fulfill their promises, they give honest and candid opinions. Their fees are always moderate.

Mrs. E. D. MASON has gone to New Haven, Conn., to attend the annual meeting of the Woman's Baptist Foreign Mission Society. Mrs. Mason is the state secretary for Vermont.

THERE will be a festival rehearsal at the Golden Fleece at half-past seven o'clock Thursday evening, under Mr. Blaisdell's direction. Let there be a large attendance on that occasion.

COLONEL J. H. LUCIA has been engaged by Brooks Post, G. A. R., to deliver the Memorial day address this year, and the Memorial sermon will be preached at Christ church by the rector, Rev. Howard F. Hill.

NEGOTIATIONS are making for the transfer of the Walker Brooks place, near the Union school-house, to Mr. A. W. Johnson of the firm of Colton & Johnson. We understand that no writings have been made as yet, however.

JUNE 1st H. A. Cleveland will transfer the stock of his boot and shoe store to E. H. Aldrich of West Millbury, Mass. Mr. Cleveland will, we understand, go to New Haven, Conn., to engage in a similar business there.

HON. C. W. WITTERS has issued a call for a meeting of the republican committee of the first congressional district at the Pavilion Hotel, Montpelier, on Friday evening, April 23, for the purpose of selecting a time and place for holding the next convention for the nomination of a member of congress.

THE mechanical castle target at Armory rink, mentioned in a recent issue of the WATCHMAN, is meeting with large patronage and, as was predicted, is proving remunerative to the owners and managers. Special inducements, specified in the business notices, are offered to visitors this week.

EASTER services at Christ church will be held at the usual hour of Sunday services, with a children's carol service at four in the afternoon. Extra preparation has been made for the musical part of the services and it will doubtless be unusually attractive. There is also to be a children's service at Bethany church Sunday evening.

GEORGE ALMON is in town, having come here for the purpose of equipping the residences of J. C. Houghton and C. W. Porter with electric call bells and other apparatus furnished by the firm by which he is employed. He is to do a similar job for C. O. Warren of Waterbury before his return to Boston and will be in this vicinity for about two weeks.

GEORGE W. WING, Postmaster.

CONSIDERABLE excitement was caused Monday evening by the announcement that Clark Corey, a young Montpelier lad, was missing. It turned out that he had gone fishing with some of his friends immediately after school without previously announcing his intention to do so, and his failure to put in an appearance until half-past ten o'clock in the evening was perhaps sufficient cause for alarm.

The first number of the new Rutland weekly, the Saturday Express, has made its appearance. Mr. Jewett P. Cain is the editor, and it promises to be a lively paper. The editor says that "the Express will be a fearless and outspoken independent newspaper," and "it will ever defend the weak against the strong." The newspaper starts off with well-laid editorial and local departments.

HON. JUSTUS DART, state superintendent of education, has issued the following circular:

To the School Officers, Teachers and Scholars of Vermont:—The governor having set apart, by proclamation, the first Monday of May as a day of school closings, it is his duty to call attention to the fact that the school officers, teachers and scholars are requested to observe this day as a day of school closings, and to refrain from any school work on that day.

WE hope that the readers of the WATCHMAN will give heed to Governor Pingree's Arbor day proclamation, published last week. The day appointed is next Saturday—a week earlier than last year. An effort should be made to plant more trees about our homes, on the roadsides, in school and church grounds, and all other places that trees would make more attractive. Arbor day was considerably observed in some parts of the state last year, and we hope to receive accounts of its more general observance this year.

T. DEWITT TALMAGE lectures at Montpelier May 13th. He has proved that he can gather a regular Sabbath congregation of five thousand hearers, and that he can make himself effectively heard by that number of people. He is one of those preachers who really belong to mankind at large. Most people who try to describe Dr. Talmage begin by saying that he is like somebody or unlike somebody else. Now, the fact is, he is not like any other person at all. He is just "Talmage" all over, with as much marked individuality as ever was concentrated in any one man.

At the annual meeting of Aurora Lodge, No. 22, F. and A. M., the following officers were elected for the ensuing year: F. W. Morse, W. M.; W. A. Briggs, S. W.; A. W. Ferrin, J. W.; Charles H. Heaton, Sec.; J. C. Houghton, Treas.; Stephen B. Coby, S. D.; Moses Pearson, J. D.; E. B. Morse, S. S.; D. S. Wheatley, J. S.; P. H. Hinkley, chaplain; Edwin H. Towne, marshal; Charles T. Sabin, musical director; H. H. Scribner, organist; A. A. Hadley, assistant organist; James A. Erwin, tyler. The lodge propose to have a public installation, with a banquet and an address by Alfred A. Hall of St. Albans, deputy grand master. The date has not been decided upon.

Last week several youngsters, whose parents reside in the vicinity of First avenue, built a dam upon a small brook near by and "went in swimming." To be sure the water wasn't deep enough for the actual performance of this act, but the little fellows waded in to the deepest places and managed to cover themselves with water by filling their hats with it and placing them on their heads. One had whooping-cough when the performance occurred and all the rest had severe colds at the time. The little son of John Leese, who was one of the number, is dangerously ill and others are suffering from increased colds.

In response to about one hundred invitations to the wedding reception of Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Harlow, a pleasant company of friends gathered at the Montpelier House last week Tuesday evening. At nine o'clock the guests were received by Mr. and Mrs. E. M. Irish, parents of the bride, and by the newly-married couple. Two hours were pleasantly spent in viewing the wedding presents, admiring a young ally which the young people had brought with them on their return from Florida, partaking of refreshments in the hotel dining-room and in social enjoyment, after which the company dispersed with the customary good wishes. Mr. and Mrs. Harlow are to occupy rooms in the Montpelier House at present.

THURSDAY of last week it was discovered that there was a leak in the Elm street gas-pipe, and Frank, son of H. B. Wedge, went into a man-hole, nearly in front of the residence of C. M. Lyon, to see if the leak was there. The hole was small and he threw out the ladder in order to give himself more room, and then started to clear away the earth from the pipe. He had thrown up one shovelful when the fast-escaping gas caused him to feel faint and his head dropped forward upon his breast. Mr. E. R. Skinner, who was near, attempted to pull him out of the hole, but was unable to do so, and, perceiving the danger of the lad's situation, hurried after Mr. L. B. Cross, who was standing in his doorway nearby. When the latter reached the spot the boy was found to have dropped down and was lying at the bottom of the hole, limp and, to all appearances, lifeless. Mr. Cross was able, with some assistance, to get him out, and it was found that although entirely unconscious, he was still breathing. Dr. Chandler was summoned, and after a time the lad was restored to consciousness. He was all right except the following day, but his escape from death was narrow, as it is thought that another minute in his unfortunate position would have been his last. The pipe was found to be broken off, and the first district of the earth left it uncovered at the break.

AGAIN the Apollo Club, "the people's choice," has been abroad and won fresh laurels. St. Johnsbury, in the county of Caledonia and state of Vermont, was favored on Friday last with a visit from this famous organization, and hundreds of St. Johnsbury people are added to its long list of admiring friends. The St. Johnsbury party was a decided success, and besides the enjoyment of the occasion for those who participated in it, the club has been able to benefit to the club of nearly a hundred dollars. It would take more room than we have to spare to tell of the departure from Montpelier and the trip to St. Johnsbury, but the club kindly furnished the superintendent W. A. Stowell, of the enjoyable and well-entertained party which were formed to pass away the few hours which that trip occupied; of the reception in St. Johnsbury, where the city of the depot and Wells River railroad is renewed. The kindness shown in each case will not soon be forgotten.

THE senior class set their class-trees on Saturday last. The baseball nines have been organized for the present term. The lyceum, Friday evening, was well attended and of unusual interest. A FEW new volumes of historical works of reference have been added to the alumni library. ATWOOD & BREMAN of Swanton have presented the institution $10,000, to be used for school purposes. The advantages here greater than before. A NEW departure in rhetorical work has been inaugurated this term. The entire school will meet together for that work on each Wednesday afternoon. It is hoped that this may prove an advantage to all. THOSE who attended the lecture of Mrs. Lathrop at Northfield, last week, are grateful to the students of Lewis College for the courtesy shown them. The hours were made pleasant by their warm reception and the interest shown in taking them over the college buildings.

AN Isle La Motte correspondent writes: "In passing the residence of Hon. Mr. Hill is nearly ninety-three and is a remarkably active and healthy man of his age. He reads without glasses and walks without a cane."
